Message from the President

Welcome, members and friends of the Penticton Art Gallery to our Annual General Meeting. I would like to begin by thanking you for taking the time to attend this meeting and for supporting our outstanding Gallery.

The year 2022 was a time of renewal, connections, ideas, creativity, discovery, imagination, inclusion and celebration.

In 2022 we welcomed a new Director, Margaret Gobie, who joined our Board as Secretary. We had also new staff and volunteers joining our Gallery to share their talents, innovative ideas and passion. We hired Chelsea Terry as Communication Coordinator, Karen Donovan-Schreiber as Gift Shop Coordinator, Rebecca Stocker as Education and Programming Coordinator, and Brendon Raw as Collection Coordinator and Preparator. Training was offered under the leadership of Paul Crawford, our Director and Curator, and Julia Snow, our Senior Gallery Administrator. Donna-Lee Jordan joined our team as Visitor Services Coordinator when Aja Jackson left temporarily. Our employees and volunteers made a very significant contribution to all our projects. On behalf of the Board of Directors, I wish to thank them for their commitment and hard work.

Unfortunately, in October we had to say good bye to Frank Regehr who had been with us for four years as our strong support on City Council. Frank left us to start new adventures.

There were many accomplishments during the last 12 months; I would like to mention a few highlights.

Our Board of Directors continued to volunteer skills and time to make the Penticton Art Gallery an exceptional organization serving all of us in Penticton and beyond. Under the leadership of Nancy Schmidt, we re-designed our front entrance and gift shop, and we upgraded the space with elegant cabinetry, softer light and colours, fresh painting and additional meaningful items for sale at the best possible prices.

The Sponsorship Committee started to build relationships with potential donors and worked with Chelsea who prepared a sponsorship package. The Visibility and Signage Committee planned more visible signs for the building to be finalized when the Gallery approves a new logo. Thanks to Ret Tinning, our Treasurer, for his accurate oversight of our finances. Ann Doyon, Kona Sankey, Cindi Lou Baker and Katie Bowling shared their skills, time and ideas.

Our 45th Annual Auction, under the leadership of Heena Nagar, our Vice-President, was very successful. This event is a major fundraiser for the Gallery, so we always appreciate support from the community. More than 200 artworks donated by local artists, businesses, and community members were up for bid. All raised funds went towards supporting exhibitions, public outreach and education programming at the Gallery.

In 2022 we celebrated a very successful and unprecedented event, the Ignite the Arts Festival, held in Penticton from March 25 to April 3. The event was initiated by Paul Crawford, our Director and Curator, and Julie Fowler who believed our city was ready to hold 70 live performances in nine days and would attract a large number of artists, partners and participants. This first art festival in Penticton was a milestone in the arts history of our city, region and province.

The Gallery worked with our sponsors and community partners to offer a full range of educational programs, workshops, artistic activities and performances throughout the downtown core of Penticton for individuals and families of all ages, abilities and backgrounds.

The festival offered a celebration of our incredible art, music and cultural community and it marked the return of festival culture in British Columbia. The event was attended by the local community and many others who came from the entire province of British Columbia and beyond. Artists came to Penticton from as far as central Canada. The Gallery received sincere appreciation from the Penticton businesses that got a strong start of the tourism season because of the large number of visitors attending our event. The festival venues included Cannery Brewing, The Dream Café, Tempest Theatre and Slackwater Brewing.

We owe the immense success of the event to Julie and Paul but also to the entire Penticton Art Gallery staff and volunteers, sponsors, funders, donors, partners, artists and community members. More than 1,000 people — from artists to volunteers and community members —helped make the celebration come alive.

As usual, I would like to thank our Board of Directors, the City of Penticton, our provincial and national governments, agencies, donors, partners, stakeholders and all sponsors for their incredible support offered to the Gallery during the year 2022.

President of the Board of Directors captivated by their abundant artistic and cultural offerings. By wholeheartedly acknowledging, embracing, and actively supporting the immense power of artistic expression, we unlock the ability to transcend barriers and ignite positive change. These efforts not only enhance our present circumstances but also establish a sturdy foundation for a future filled with boundless promise and potential. The transformative power of art fuels our collective aspirations, propelling us towards a more inclusive, compassionate, and harmonious world that celebrates the unique contributions of every individual and fosters an environment where creativity flourishes and the human spirit soars.

On that note, I would like to extend a special thank you to the remarkable artists who fearlessly shared their stories, art, and music with us, making our lives and our community more vibrant. We encourage our visitors to engage with the art, ask questions, and share their perspectives. In doing so, we create an environment that encourages active participation, deep reflection, and the exchange of ideas. By fostering deeper connections with one another, we strengthen the fabric of our community and promote a more inclusive and empathetic society. It's our exhibitions, public programs, and events such as the Ignite the Arts Festival which form the framework upon which our Vision, Mission, and Mandate are built. Thank you for being a part of our community and for your dedication to fostering meaningful dialogue.

I am immensely grateful and proud that the Penticton Art Gallery is recognized as a safe haven which embraces inclusivity, celebrates diversity, and fosters meaningful dialogue. Thank you all for making the Penticton Art Gallery a dynamic, rich and vibrant community asset and resource, we look forward to continuing this journey of artistic exploration and growth together.

Economic Impact -

The ongoing effects of the pandemic have posed significant challenges for the gallery, particularly in fundraising and revenue generation. While emergency funding from federal and provincial governments has provided crucial support, this is not a sustainable long-term solution. As a result, the gallery is actively seeking new avenues to diversify and

It is with great pleasure that I present my 2022 Annual Report to the Penticton Art Gallery membership. All our achievements and successes over the past year have been made possible by the unwavering support of our funders, donors, community partners, exceptional board and staff, and most importantly, our dedicated members and patrons. Together, as a united community, we have nurtured and supported a thriving arts ecosystem that continues to flourish. I am immensely grateful for the support and participation of every individual who has walked through our doors. You all play a vital role in infusing our community with an undeniable richness and vibrancy. Your engagement and support are the lifeblood of the Penticton Art Gallery.

It is undeniable communities flourish when they prioritize art and culture. These cities become desirable, livable, safer, and vibrant destinations, attracting residents, businesses, and visitors who are expand its revenue base, recognizing the imperative of finding sustainable solutions for the future.

Challenges faced by the gallery include the potential economic downturn, which has made individuals and corporations more cautious about charitable giving and prompted tighter budgets. Donor fatigue, stemming from constant donation requests during the pandemic, is another challenge that has hindered the establishment of a strong and engaged donor base. Moreover, a shift in priorities has led to heightened competition for limited resources, necessitating organizations to differentiate themselves and effectively showcase the unique value and impact of their work. To tackle these challenges, the gallery is pursuing innovative solutions while remaining true to its vision, mission, and mandate.

Solutions include renovations to various areas of the gallery, including collections storage, exhibition spaces, the library, and the tearoom which will enhance the Gallery's capabilities, broaden its reach, and facilitate the delivery of public programs. Additionally, renovating the gift shop/reception area will provide a platform to showcase the work of regional artisans and generate revenue throughout the year. The Ignite the Arts Festival serves as a vital addition to the gallery's annual exhibition program, acting as a catalyst for community building while creating further opportunities for project funding and sponsorship. Diversifying funding sources through grants, sponsorships, and collaborations with other organizations helps mitigate the financial risks associated with a decline in individual donations. By navigating these challenges with determination and adaptability, the gallery is well positioned to thrive.

Throughout the week, the festival forged partnerships with various community organizations such as the Penticton Academy of Music, Enowkin Centre, Theytus Books, 2Rivers Remix Movable Feast, South Okanagan Immigrant and Community Services UnBox Project, Tempest Theatre, and the Penticton Museum. These collaborations created a vibrant and dynamic celebration that embraced the transformative power of art and culture. It showcased an array of art forms, including visual arts, music, dance, theater, and more. Through thought-provoking exhibitions, captivating performances, enriching workshops, and interactive activities, the festival provided a platform for artists to showcase their talents and community members to immerse themselves in the artistic experience. With its focus on igniting creativity and fostering a sense of belonging, Ignite the Arts Festival exemplifies the thriving arts community in Penticton and its dedication to nurturing creativity and cultural expression. The festival's impact extends beyond its duration, leaving a lasting imprint on the region's arts community and enriching the economic wellbeing, social capital, and cultural fabric of Penticton as a whole.

MY JOURNEY ~ REDUX - Michael Sime JANUARY 29TH, 2022 - MARCH 12TH, 2022 TONI ONLEY & PROJECT ROOM GALLERY

Dr. Michael Sime, a beloved figure in the Penticton arts community, was honored with the lifetime achievement award at the annual Penticton and District Community Arts Council's Arts Awards Gala in the spring of 2018. His significant contributions to the development and support of the arts community in the South Okanagan were recognized. In that same year, he held a highly successful exhibition at Mondo Creations on Main Street, with many of his artworks finding new homes across the region. The planned exhibition of Dr. Sime's works at the Penticton Art Gallery for the 2020 Meadowlark Nature Festival was unfortunately canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. However, an online virtual exhibition featuring his artworks was created as an alternative, showcasing his remarkable artistic journey. The Penticton Art Gallery is proud to have hosted this exhibition, paying tribute to Dr. Sime's outstanding legacy. As the Penticton Art Gallery continued to adapt to the challenges faced over the previous two years, staff committed to accommodating all artists affected by the pandemic and were delighted to announce that Dr. Sime's exhibition was finally held in the gallery, allowing his remarkable work and legacy to be celebrated.

It is with great sadness that Mike's family announce his passing on May 15th, 2022 in Penticton, BC at the age of 87. He was a unique and charismatic character and will be greatly missed by many people.

After studying classical voice and opera, she returned to Penticton, where she collaborated with various organizations and performed in opera productions. Mia expanded her artistic horizons by exploring vocal improvisation and performance art, including solo projects and participation in radio plays and concerts. This residency was a significant step towards pushing boundaries and fostering innovative dialogue, and we are grateful for the opportunity to support Mia's transformative journey.

“I KNOW IT’S SILLY...” - Ari Neufeld

MARCH 26TH, 2022 - MAY 14TH, 2022

TONI ONLY GALLERY

Ari Neufeld, a second-generation British Columbian, was featured in the Toni Onley Gallery as part of the Ignite the Arts Festival. Raised by missionary parents, Ari fondly remembered his father's quirky sense of humor, often expressing it through personal and obscure jokes. These humorous moments had a lasting impact on Ari, inspiring him to create visual concepts that embraced puns and ridiculousness. Despite his father's passing, Ari's artwork continued to reflect this whimsical humor, serving as a tribute to his father's belief in the healing power of laughter. His series focused on animals found along the British Columbian West Coast, imaginatively capturing what they might say if given the ability to speak. Through his art, Ari aimed to provide a ray of light to those who needed it, dedicating his work to his father, Donald Corny Neufeld.

Migration Parade: Holon - Alexandra Goodall & Danielle Savage

MARCH 26TH, 2022 - MAY 14TH, 2022 - MAIN GALLERY

This Exhibition brought together electroacoustic sound artist Danielle Savage and sculptural textile artist Alexandra Goodall. Their work, "Migration Parade: Holon," created a luminous and altered space for collective exploration, delving into the complexities of individual and collective experiences. The project embraced ambiguity and interpretation, avoiding simplistic answers or blame, and offered a relational alternative to fundamentalism. "Migration Parade" serves as a testament to the boundless possibilities that emerge when artists and community members join forces to create something truly extraordinary. Furthermore, it acted as the catalyst for the inaugural Ignite the Arts Festival, a ten-day community-wide celebration of the transformative power of art and culture, leaving a lasting legacy stemming from this remarkable exhibition.

From February 20th - 26th, Performance artist and dancer Charlie Prince conducted a residency in preparation for a durational performance that took place in the completed Migration Parade: Holon exhibition. Charlie used this time to conduct choreographic and somatic research with a 6 person movement ensemble (Gita Harris, Maiya Robbie, Jess Glavina, Nikos Theodosakis, Peter Kok, Julie Fowler). Visitors were invited to witness this research in action during the Inaugural Ignite the Arts Festival.

Self Preservation - Danielle Krysa

MARCH 26TH, 2022 - MAY 14TH, 2022 - PROJECT ROOM GALLERY

Combining found imagery and objects, Danielle Krysa created sculptures and collages that represented her personal health battle in June 2020. After undergoing surgery and losing her uterus, she transformed the "medical waste" into beautiful, feminine objects, reclaiming power and preserving her state of mind. The exhibit featured specimen jars filled with broken jewelry, artificial flowers, shattered ceramics, and clay cigarettes, showcasing the concept of broken yet beautiful treasures. Additionally, her collages titled "From the Ashes" expanded on the theme, celebrating the resilience of women who have overcome difficulties, emerged from the dark, and started anew.

Throughout the exhibit, Krysa's artwork not only depicted her own journey but also resonated with other women who have faced loss, grief, and abuse. The collages represented the strength and determination of women to rise above adversity and bloom again. By sharing her personal experience and empowering narratives, Krysa aimed to inspire and uplift others, emphasizing the indomitable spirit of women in navigating challenges and finding renewal.

From a Bird's Eye View - Lyse Deselliers

MAY 20TH TO JUNE 11TH, 2022 TONI ONLEY GALLERY

The Meadowlark Festival, a cherished community partnership and outreach initiative of the gallery, returned this year to help restore a sense of normalcy and community following the COVID-19 pandemic. The festival featured an exhibition titled "From a Bird's Eye View," showcasing the paintings of Lyse Deselliers, an artist inspired by the beauty of the Okanagan region. Deselliers' artwork aimed to convey her gratitude for the land and its animals, emphasizing the importance of protecting and respecting nature. Through rhythmic compositions and vibrant colors, she shared her vision of the preciousness of the environment and hoped to inspire others to develop a deep appreciation for it.

Lyse Deselliers, a veterinarian turned painter, has shown her artwork in various locations in Alberta and British Columbia, with her paintings now residing in collections across North America and London. Her focus on capturing the monumental beauty of the Okanagan led her to create larger pieces inspired by aerial photographs of the region. Alongside her artistic pursuits, Deselliers has a strong passion for animals and the environment, aligning well with the purpose of the Meadowlark Festival. She believes that events like the festival play a crucial role in combatting indifference towards climate change by bringing people together and fostering a sense of community and connection around the love for birds and nature.

MAY 20TH TO JUNE 11TH, 2022 - MAIN GALLERY

The Penticton Art Gallery hosted the annual local high school exhibition, featuring artworks by students from Penticton Secondary School, Princess Margaret Secondary School, and Summerland Secondary School. The exhibition showcased the budding talents of young artists in the South Okanagan region and emphasized the importance of arts education, especially at the secondary school level. The theme of this year's exhibition was "A Closer Look," offering viewers a glimpse into the students' interpretations of the world around them and their unique artistic styles. PAG is particularly grateful for the opportunity to collaborate with our regional high school teachers, as it provides a unique window into the lives and interests of the talented youth in our region through their artworks. The exhibition provided a platform for the artists to explore their experiences, express their creativity, and connect with the community through their art.

2ND Annual Young Collectors Club

MAY 20TH TO JUNE 11TH, 2022

PROJECT ROOM GALLERY

In the past, art collecting was often seen as an exclusive activity reserved for the wealthy and influential. However, in the 21st century, the perception of art collecting has evolved, becoming more accessible and diverse in its motivations.

Our project aimed to encourage both young people and those young at heart to engage in art collecting. The program was designed in a unique format, with a dedicated week for children aged 5-12 to choose from a wide selection of original artworks in a specially curated gallery space. Staff were on hand to assist the young collectors in making their choices. Subsequently, and as an addition since the first YCC, individuals aged 13-99 were also invited to explore and select artworks in the gallery. Parents were not allowed in the gallery space, ensuring independent decision-making. Each ticket purchased for the event guaranteed the acquisition of a piece of artwork, with all proceeds supporting our youth programming at the Gallery.

A Picture Is Worth a Thousand Words

JULY 8TH TO SEPTEMBER 17TH, 2022 - MAIN GALLERY

This extraordinary exhibition showcased the monumental woodcuts of two esteemed artistic collectives, Colectivo Subterráneo and Taller Artístico Comunitario (TAC), from Oaxaca, Mexico. To enhance the exhibition experience, we had the privilege of hosting two artists, Andre Martinez and Eloise Flores, who assisted with the installation and also conducted free community workshops and demonstrations. We are deeply grateful to the BC Arts Council's Community Impact Grant program for their generous financial support, which made this exhibition possible. In keeping with Taller Artístico Comunitario's commitment to empowering Indigenous artists, we partnered with the Enowkin Centre and 2RMX to offer free printmaking workshops. The workshops attracted over 100 participants, and several local artists contributed to the exhibition's installation and engaged with the community. This exhibition had an additional impact on the artists featured in the exhibition with TAC being able to acquire a much-needed printing press for their collective, and Eloise Flores established her own print studio. Building on the success and interest generated, we are dedicated to fostering further exchange by sending artists from Penticton and the region to study in Oaxaca, immersing themselves in the operations and inspiration of these collectives and contributing to the development of our cultural industry. Sarah Fahey was the first artist sent, and her month-long stay in Oaxaca during February 2023 has resulted in workshops and talks where she shares the skills and knowledge she acquired. Sarah's involvement has been invaluable in strengthening these partnerships and nurturing their growth. This exhibition and its ongoing legacy represent an exciting new project with the potential to make a lasting and meaningful impact on our region's arts community.

Southern Cross - Laurence Evelyn Hyde (1914 - 1987)

JULY 8TH TO SEPTEMBER 17TH, 2022 - TONI ONLEY GALLERY

Southern Cross: A Novel of the South Seas, is a stunning wordless novel told in 118 wood engravings by the Canadian artist Laurence Hyde in protest to the tests of the hydrogen bomb made by the United States at the Bikini Atoll in 1946. The inspiration behind book was clearly political, and the book has been called "a political marker of the Cold War years". The high-contrast artwork of Southern Cross features dynamic curving lines uncommon in wood engraving and combines abstract imagery with realistic detail. Laurence took three years to hand carve the 118 wood engravings and in 1951 the entire collection were hand printed from the original wood blocks and published as a small limited edition by the Ward Ritchie Press in Los Angeles. Hyde dedicated the book to the Red Cross Societies and the Society of Friends. The book has since been republished twice in 2007: Drawn & Quarterly released a deluxe facsimile edition with additional essays by Hyde and an introduction by wordless novel historian David Beronä, and George Walker included Southern Cross in his anthology of wordless novels Graphic Witness (2014).

Lasting Impressions - Albrecht Dürer (1471-1528) Rembrandt Harmenszoon van Rijn (1606-1669) & William Hogarth (1697-1764)
JULY 8TH TO SEPTEMBER 17TH, 2022 - TONI ONLEY GALLERY

This exhibition showcased the works of three renowned printmakers from history: Albrecht Dürer, Rembrandt van Rijn, and William Hogarth. It explored how printmaking became a democratic art form, accessible to the general public. The rise of printmaking extended the reach of visual arts beyond elite patrons and the church. Dürer's woodcuts, widely circulated across Europe, solidified his place in art history. Rembrandt's etchings earned him international acclaim, contributing to his reputation as one of the greatest artists of all time. Hogarth's satirical prints and narrative series brought attention to social issues. Collectively, these artists revolutionized the art of printmaking, making it more accessible and inclusive.

Albrecht Dürer, Rembrandt van Rijn, and William Hogarth were influential figures in the history of printmaking. Their works reflected societal changes, challenged traditional art forms, and engaged the public. By exploring their contributions, this exhibition shed light on the democratization of art through printmaking and its impact on cultural development.

the audacity of taking up space - A.J. Brown, Annette Nieuwerk, Sára Molčan, Nicole Sleeth, Laurie M. Landry
SEPTEMBER 23RD TO NOVEMBER 5TH, 2022 - MAIN GALLERY (Guest curated by Laurie M. Landry)

We were privileged to curate an exceptional exhibition featuring the artistic journeys of Laurie Landry, A.J. Brown, Annette Nieuwerk, Sára Molčan, and Nicole Sleeth. Each artist explored different themes and perspectives through their chosen mediums, captivating viewers with their unique voices. Landry challenged unrealistic beauty standards, while Brown transcended physical limitations to express her soul-voice. Nieuwerk embraced the aging human figure, Molčan examined society's insecurities, and Sleeth centered her work around the power and lived experiences of women. Together, their diverse artworks offered a thought-provoking exploration of identity, connection, and the complexities of the human condition. In collaboration to this exhibit, we ran life-drawing courses in the Main Gallery over the course of the exhibition run.

In talking about the intent behind the exhibition Laurie wrote, "Figurative art can be a form of claiming your space, whatever your space may be. Contemporary figurative art has broken away from the powerful, the rich, the white man, or the beautiful, flawless maiden as a subject, but incorporating the contemporary world we live in, full of diversity. Black, Indigenous, Asian, queer, body positive and/or disabled figures are spotlighted."

A Journey Through Scoliosis - Saghi Ehteshamzadeh with Nikki Schenk, Melika Hemmat, and Natalie Janzen

SEPTEMBER 23RD TO NOVEMBER 5TH, 2022 - PROJECT ROOM GALLERY

"A Journey Through Scoliosis" was an inspiring exhibition that delved into the personal and mental experiences of scoliosis. The artist, driven by her own journey with scoliosis, embarked on a mission to transform the perception of curved spines. From battling body image issues to embracing her unique curvature, she discovered the beauty in her own scoliosis and sought to celebrate scoliosis bodies through photography. By shedding light on scoliosis and its mental effects, the exhibition aimed to raise awareness, promote self-acceptance, and foster a sense of community among individuals with scoliosis.

Anxiety and poor body image are common challenges shared by many with scoliosis, and this project provided a platform for individuals to share their experiences. The exhibition emphasized the power of collective stories and aimed to unite scoliosis bodies in their mental journeys. The exhibition opening also gave space for collaboration between artists and Dancer Nikki Schenk (also living with Scoliosis) performed twice in the Project Room over the course of the exhibition.

From Darkness to Light - Deborah Dowsett

SEPTEMBER 23RD TO NOVEMBER 5TH, 2022 - TONI ONLEY GALLERY

The exhibition showcased the poignant journey of artist Deborah Dowsett who faced numerous challenges throughout her life. From a young age, her artistic talent shone bright, but personal struggles with an eating disorder and addiction interrupted her artistic pursuits. Growing up in a dysfunctional household and yearning for validation, she found herself disconnected from others and battling inner demons.

Despite setbacks, she found solace in her art and used it to shed light on the harsh realities faced by individuals battling homelessness and addiction, emphasizing the need for addressing mental health issues and challenging the perception of addiction as a criminal matter. Through her powerful paintings, Dowsett aimed to foster empathy, understanding, and inspire action in the face of the pervasive drug crisis affecting societies globally.

At the end of the year, staff at Penticton Art Gallery journeyed to the "North Pole" and took a picture with Santa! We then used this image to create greeting cards which we sent out to our members. We had a lot of fun with this just for fun holiday project, and we looked pretty good doing it, don't you think?

gallery's online following increased by approximately 2,000 since the previous year's AGM.

Looking ahead, the gallery is committed to preserving its rich history by archiving previous exhibitions, contemporary artists in British Columbia, and past arts letters on the new website. These initiatives aim to highlight the remarkable accomplishments of the Penticton Art Gallery before my tenure and establish a connection between the gallery's past achievements and the exciting endeavors on the horizon.

In 2022, the Penticton Art Gallery achieved several notable accomplishments and experienced significant developments. The year began for me in February, when I was hired on to replace McKaila Ferguson, previously in my position, and I immediately embarked on revamping the bi-monthly Arts Letter. Through a redesigned layout that aligned with current trends, the newsletter became more visually appealing and engaging. It also featured new sections, including articles showcasing various collections, highlights of artists in the gift shop, and introductions of new staff members.

During the summer months, the focus shifted towards revitalizing the gallery's website, aiming to create a more modern and user-friendly online presence. While the migration of archival pages is still ongoing, the new website introduced the ability to sell registrations online for the first time. In early September, an e-commerce store was launched, which proved to be a resounding success. The store generated $17,652.75 in additional online sales between September and December, primarily driven by ticket sales for the sold-out Soup Bowl events.

Overall, 2022 was a year of significant progress for the Penticton Art Gallery, marked by the successful transformation of the Arts Letter, the launch of the Ignite the Arts festival, the revitalization of the website, and the establishment of a thriving e-commerce store. These accomplishments, coupled with the gallery's strategic use of local media and a focus on preserving its heritage, position it for continued success and growth in the future.

One of the major undertakings during the year was the organization of the inaugural Ignite the Arts Festival. There

The Penticton Art Gallery continued to leverage local media for promotional activities, with Castanet being a particularly valuable platform for reaching the target audience. By utilizing both paid ads and organic marketing tools like social media, the

Education and Programming Report

Education Coordinator, Penticton Art Gallery

2022 was my first year with the Gallery as the Education and Programming Coordinator and what a wonderful year it was! We were back in our full capacity, and better than ever (at least according to me- I have no statistics to back this claim). We started the year off short-staffed, but by the spring we had a full and passionate staff on here at the Gallery. Due to the staffing shortages the beginning of the year was a little slow programming-wise. However, by March we were back in full swing.

This year we continued with our long running programming, to great success- the Young@Art afterschool program, Little Leo's pro-D Day Camps, Maker Mondays, Creative Kids Spring Break Camps, and Creative Kids Summer Camps all had their usual success and received incredibly positive feedback. Particularly our Young@Art afterschool program, which in went from having 4 kids regularly show up to having between 13 and 17 kids show up regularly. Young@Art has become our most popular program, which is fantastic as it is a free program sponsored by Safeway, that brings art into the lives of children who may not otherwise be able to attend arts programming.

This year we also started some programming back up that had previously been put on hold because of some sort of thing that affected most of the world's population. Topics and Tea, First Fridays, Preschool Art, and School Tours were all started back up, and we have really enjoyed having them in our calendar again. Topics and Tea as well as First Fridays had a slow start with only one or two people showing up for each event, respectively. However, these events started gaining traction at the end of 2022- we now have "regulars" that come to each Topics and Tea or First Fridays, which is fabulous. Our school tours have also started to gain traction- we have a few classes that have booked in to do a tour for every new exhibit we have (so long as it is age appropriate) which is really fantastic- both for us and for the children in the classes, who, if they are truthful in their thank you cards, very much enjoy their visits.

Further, this year we facilitated classes with some truly talented artists: we had an origami class, acrylic painting classes, a watercolour class, bob Ross classes, and Christmas craft classes. While I would love to say that we sold out all these classes, we unfortunately didn't. Some of these classes were popular and had high attendance, others only had one or two people attend. Additionally, there were further classes that I haven't listed because we couldn't get enough sign-ups to run them. Our adult classes were much more hit and miss with attendance and interest. However, I believe that we are on an upswing, we had more interest in our classes towards the end of the year and have reached out to patrons of the gallery for feedback on what they would like to see offered here, so that we can offer classes that better suit our membership.

Finally, I also introduced some new programming and classes- Senior's Wellness drop-in workshops, Mail Art Mondays, Life Drawing drop-ins, and Foundry Penticton Youth Drop-in partnership. These programs have been incredibly well-received. Senior's Wellness drop-in had a group of regulars who came and really enjoyed themselves- we worked with a plethora of mediums and created a wide variety of projects for them to take home. Life-drawing went over quite well, we had a regular group of about ten people coming on Saturdays to work on their life drawing, in conjunction with our main gallery exhibit. Mail Art Mondays and Foundry drop-in had much slower starts, however those that do attend report having a wonderful time, as well these are projects that I am very passionate about, so we are forging on and continuing them hoping to garner a larger following.

This was a challenging year because we were trying to build up programming and attendance after a long hiatus where we were running on a skeleton schedule and a skeleton crew, but I think that we rose to the challenge and have been successful in attempting to build back up what we had prior to the great events of the early 2020s. I am optimistic that we will continue to climb and offer more and better programming in the coming years.

Front Desk Report

Jan - April 2022 - Front desk lost volunteer Karen Donovan-Shreiber to employment as Gift Shop Coordinator. Congratulations Karen! Toward March of 2022 we had 8 front desk volunteers who have regular once a week shifts and who fill in on occasional Fridays, Saturdays and when volunteers are on vacation.

April 2022 - April was a busy month coordinating volunteers for the Ignite the Arts Festival. We recruited 34 volunteers and 4 PAG board members for the 3 day wristband weekend/sculpture events. The on-line forms and the google sheets we shared for volunteer contacts and schedules were very useful to coordinate this event. The Sunday wrap up on April 3rd at Slackwater was very highly attended. Everyone had a positive volunteer experience and would love to volunteer for other special events. One volunteer mentioned that it would be great if we had a merch booth set up next year. Our Volunteer Pizza luncheon on Monday April 11th was enjoyable. We had 10 front desk volunteers who attended. They thoroughly enjoyed the pizza, dessert, prize packages and mingling with one another, board members and staff!

Summer 2022 - Over the summer we had some beautiful new cabinetry and desks installed in the gallery including one in the foyer and another inside the giftshop used mainly by volunteers and staff for ticketed events. We did have some growing pains at first with some of the volunteers feeling a little bit disconnected from the rest of the gallery at our new foyer desk. However, we have saw theft reduced to nearly zero shortly thereafter due to the more visible presence and customer service we could offer by welcoming visitors to the gallery. This encouraged volunteers to walk & talk as they explored in the giftshop with visitors rather sitting at the desk, feeling like a greeter. I also added an events and workshop overview calendar next to the phone at both desks showing upcoming exhibits and classes. It has been an effective tool for volunteers to answer questions when the phone rings up front (ie: a the basics about each class or event date/costs/if classes are sold out etc.) This quick reference calendar enabled them to answer questions without the need to put callers on hold to check the events book at the main desk. We have such an amazing group of knowledgeable and personable volunteer and we try to make their tasks as easy as possible.

Lasting Impressions, A Picture is Worth a Thousand Words, Southern Cross, The Audacity of Taking Up Space (Life drawing), From Darkness to Light, Journey through Scoliosis

We had a great response to the life drawing in conjunction with The Audacity of Taking Up Space exhibition. The first 2 weeks we had 5 local artists drop in and sketch or paint for the 2 hour life drawing with draped models but work quickly spread about this dynamic exhibition up to 10 artists for most of the remaining 5 Saturdays. Doing live life drawing next to these beautiful portraits and figure paintings while patrons enjoyed it as part of the exhibition was a wonderful way to add another interactive dimension to the gallery experience for both patrons and participants. All the drop-in artists expressed great interest in any future life-drawing classes or exhibitions.

SOUPBOWLS - NOV 10, NOV 13, 2022 - After a two-year hiatus it was incredible to welcome once again everyone back into the gallery for this much-loved community event. In every regard it was an overwhelming success, which was illustrated in the feedback we received and in the smiling faces of our guests as they indulged in the fine culinary creations offered up by the participating restaurants, Chefs, and bakers and served in the wonderful handmade bowls made by the members of the Summerland and Penticton Potters Guilds. There wasn't one restaurant that didn't get rave reviews! Both nights made for memorable events and I congratulate all the Chef's on creating and serving up such a wonderful array of soups to warm one's heart and soul as we entered the shortest days of the year.

Thursday, Nov 10 - 1st Place: Brodo Kitchen, 2nd Place: Honey Toast, 3rd Place: SOS Café

Sunday, Nov 13 - 1st Place: Cannery Brewing, 2nd Place: Honey Toast, 3rd Place: Cellar Wine Bar & Kitchen

Thank you to all Participants:

Time Winery & Kitchen, Gratify, Barley Mill, Brodo, Angry Vegan, Kristine Lee, Honey Toast, SOS Café. The Pasta Factory, Cannery Brewing, The Bench Market, The Nest, Dream Cafe, Sociale, Ann Doyon of Doyon Dishes, Woudas Bakery, Petrasek Bakery, Cobs Bakery and Just Pies!

Under 500 2022 - Christmas shoppers were thrilled as usual with our fine selection of original artworks in the Under 500 Exhibition and our broad selection of festive local crafts and ornaments. We were sad to lose 4 front desk volunteers to flying south for the winter months and family commitments (Rhonda, Gail, Annie, Diane) and happy to gain Shirley, Jaime, Della-Rae along the way. Also with the online store available for the Under 500, so many patrons expressed their joy at the ease of access to this and other gallery events and initiatives. It is proving to be a key introductory point for new and potential artists and visitors. Classes, workshops, event tickets, art auctions and purchases are all facilitated easily through the LEARN and SHOP sections of the site. We could not be more happy with the feedback! Our Celebrating Christmas workshops took off due in no small part to this new way of finding & purchasing fun & festive classes & workshops.

Additionally, I helped Media Coordinator, Chelsea Terry. Having come to the gallery from a graphic design and publishing background, I've been able to offer a bit of help for when our valiant Media Coordinator has a lot on her plate. Social media posts, promo video shorts and email marketing blasts are a few things I've been assisting with and hope to learn more in other areas so that I may help with small website information updates and last minute announcements as well as help Karen, Gift Shop Coordinator here and there!

I look forward to meeting and encouraging our community to participate in more local art endeavours!

Gift Shop Report

What happened in 2022? I joined PAG February 7th, as the Gift Shop Coordinator.

The first few weeks I worked on a physical inventory list of the gift shop, not too sure when the last time that was done. Once inventory was completed I started to contact our current and past gift shop artists to introduce myself and to get to know them,

We added the following new artists to the gift shop in 2022:

- Peggie Collins a local artist who uses vibrant colors and lots of layering in her pieces.
- Katherine Piors who loves to make bold statements in her glass.

- Hector Alec a local PIB member that draws his artwork with colored pens.
- Shirley McMahan, who has an evident celebration/fascination with the preciousness of nature.

I contacted some of our past gift shop artists to replenish their art pieces like Paula Schneider a potter, Nancy Dearborn a glass artist, Kari Lehr a wildlife/nature artist.

At the end of April, we dismantled the old gift shop, getting it ready for the new installation from New Generation Cabinets. The renovations were completed in the first week of July. What a transformation! We are still receiving compliments today. It was wonderful to see the transformation from the old to the new. The change created a more welcoming atmosphere. We installed new window blinds in the front visitor services desk area and the gift shop because it gets very warm and uncomfortable during the summer months.

We had a few growing pains with the re-vamping of the gift shop, such as volunteers feeling disconnected having to sit out at the front visitor's desk. We are continually looking for new PAG Volunteers.

Our theft rate has decreased dramatically because of the new layout. We installed a round mirror above the new gift shop desk which has helped with the visual site lines for our loss prevention. We also installed cameras. We have a second cash register in the gift shop which is a big plus with our exhibition openings. This helps with faster service and getting through the line-ups for merchandise and refreshment sales.

We are in the process of re-training our of volunteers and staff members with customer service and loss prevention tactics. This should help with sales and membership growth.

To end off the year, the gift shop still managed to make a small profit compared to last year even with all the renovations and staff changes that occurred.

Collections Report

Collections Coordinator, Penticon Art Gallery

2022 saw the beginning of a long-term ongoing project to re-catalogue, organize and locate the items in the collections. At the start of the year, there was approximately 1800 items listed in our database. At the end of the year there was 2048. The majority of that increase represents item that were likely accessioned, but were not entered into the database or that there was insufficient information for me to connect the item to the entry in the database.

Part of this process involved each item in the collection being re-photographed, including a scale and reference colour spot. For most of the year, the photos were taken in the framing room. During the last months of the year, space was set aside in the main gallery for use as a photography studio. This was done to allow for the photographing of the galleries large pieces; those that were too large to photograph in the framing room. Other than a few large works hanging up on walls, notably those in the framing room, all the large art was photographed and returned to storage.

To help ensure that future collections coordinator's can maintain the records, detailed notes on the process and logic behind each decision has been written. Even if they choose to change the system, they will have an explanation for why the current system is the way it is.

To help better track the art, each rack in the storage areas was assigned a different number. These were then further broken down by shelf and section on the shelf. For example:

- Brendon Raw
Collections Coordinator

To honour the indigenous artistry we have in our collection, Brendon and Chelsea worked together to highlight some of our unique collection pieces on social media on Indigenous Peoples Day, June 21st, 2022.

Permanent Collection Acquisitions

Our collection features over 2800 works of art pertaining to our region and its history. We curate collection Exhibitions throughout the year and look forward to a showcase soon!

Ignite the Arts Report

The air was alive with energy as the sounds of guitars, drums, and melodic voices filled the atmosphere. The festival organizers carefully curated the lineup, ensuring a diverse mix of established acts and up-and-coming artists, catering to different musical tastes and preferences.

organizations. Food vendors like Gratify and Angry Vegan as well as our events venues offered a delightful array of delicious food and refreshing drinks, like craft beer and wine. This fusion of art, music, and community initiatives created an inclusive atmosphere that fostered connections and inspired conversations.

Some of the festival's highlights were: The Parade for No Reason, which proved that parades are fun no matter the reason or lack thereof, Al Simmons, who showed attendees that they are never too old for a silly song, and Balkan Shmalkan who got everybody up and dancing, singing that they wanted to be a "Disco Boy." There was really and truly something for everyone - no matter their age, gender identity, or cultural background.

As the festival came to a close, we reflected on a successful first year, already talking about what we liked, what we didn't, and looking towards what we could improve upon for next year. The event attracted a good turnout, surpassing expectations and leaving a lasting impact on the local arts scene. Attendees expressed their appreciation for the festival's ability to bring the community together, showcase local talent, and create a platform for artistic expression. With its triumphant debut, the festival set the stage for future editions, promising even more creativity, collaboration, and celebration of the arts in the

Beyond the musical performances, the festival embraced a wide range of art forms. The visual arts section showcased drawings, sculptures, and mixed media, allowing attendees to immerse themselves in the talent of local artists. Interactive workshops and art demonstrations provided an opportunity for visitors to try their hand at various artistic techniques and gain a deeper understanding of the creative process. Attendees were wowed by the collages of Danielle Krysa, the comics of Ari Neufeld, and the interactive sculptural, soundsational experience created by Danielle Savage and Alexandra Goodall.

The festival also prioritized community engagement by collaborating and partnering with local businesses and

The Ignite the Arts Festival's inaugural year, despite some trials and tribulations, due in part to the pandemic- that-shall-not-be-named was a great success! Ignite the Arts Festival burst on to the scene, captivating the community with its vibrant celebration of creativity. The event took place over ten days (seven community-week days and three festival weekend days) in the heart of the city, attracting artists, musicians, and art enthusiasts from near and far. The festival aimed to showcase a rich diversity of talent while fostering a sense of community and cultural appreciation, with the aim of one day making Penticton the Arts Capital of Canada.

Over the ten days local Penticton venues like Slackwater Brewing, Cannery Brewing, The Dream Café, Tempest Theatre, Cleland Theatre, and the Penticton Art Gallery were transformed into a kaleidoscope of colour and sound, showcasing an array of artistic expressions. From live music performances spanning genres like indie, rock, and folk, to stunning visual art installations and interactive workshops, there was something to captivate every attendee.

Treasurers Report

(*See supplemental document for detailed financial report)

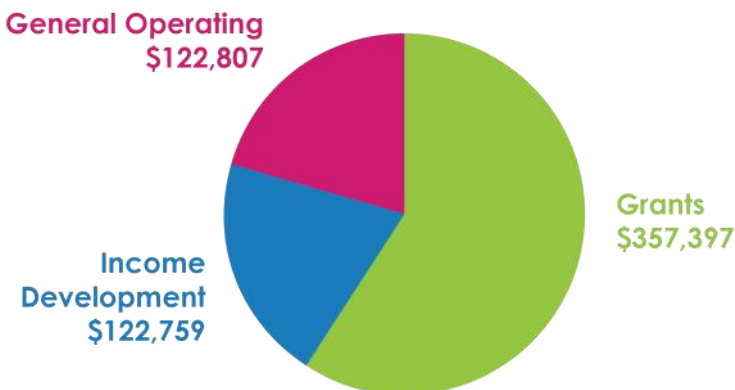

The Penticton Art Gallery finances maintained a stable position with total revenues of $760,911 minus total expenses of $770,496 for a deficit of $9,586 (less than 1.3%). These results were achieved through responsible fiscal management and by a cohesive hard working staff, and board.

Revenues were achieved through grants from the City of Penticton, and other government funding programs. Other revenues were earned from successful fund raising events i.e. Loving Mugs, Ignite The Arts (first year), Square Murals Project, Annual Art Auction, Soup Bowls, Under 500 and others. Some PAG income came from government pandemic relief programs, which will probably not be available in 2023 (making fund raising more of a challenge).

Approximately $30,000.00 was invested in a redesign and inventory for the gift shop, in order to make it a sustainable and profitable revenue source for the gallery.

INDEPENDENT PRACTITIONER'S REVIEW ENGAGEMENT REPORT

To the Members of Penticton Art Gallery

We have reviewed the accompanying financial statements of Penticton Art Gallery (the Society) that comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2022, and the statements of revenues and expenditures, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-profit Organizations (ASNPO), and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Practitioner's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the accompanying financial statements based on our review. We conducted our review in accordance with Canadian generally accepted standards for review engagements, which require us to comply with relevant ethical requirements.

A review of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted standards for review engagements is a limited assurance engagement. The practitioner performs procedures, primarily consisting of making inquiries of management and others within the entity, as appropriate, and applying analytical procedures, and evaluates the evidence obtained.

The procedures performed in a review are substantially less in extent than, and vary in nature from, those performed in an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion on these financial statements.

Basis for Qualified Conclusion

In common with many not-for-profit organizations, the Society derives revenue from donations and fundraising activities, the completeness of which is not susceptible to us obtaining evidence we considered necessary for the purpose of the review. Accordingly, the evidence obtained of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Society. Therefore, we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to donations or fundraising revenue, excess of revenues over expenditures, and cash flows from operations for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, current assets as at December 31, 2022 and 2021 and net assets as at January 1 and December 31 for both the 2022 and 2021 year-end. Our conclusion on the financial statements as at and for the year ended December 31, 2021 was modified accordingly because of the possible effect of this limitation in scope.

Qualified Conclusion

Based on our review, except for the possible effects of the matter described in the Basis for Qualified Conclusion paragraph, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the financial statements do not present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Penticton Art Gallery as at December 31, 2022, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-profit Organizations (ASNPO).

Report on other legal and regulatory requirements

As required by the Societies Act of British Columbia, we report that, in our opinion, these accounting principles have been applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

PENTICTON ART GALLERY
YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2022

1. PURPOSE OF THE SOCIETY

Penticton Art Gallery (the "society") is a not-for-profit organization incorporated provincially under the Society Act of British Columbia. As a registered charity the society is exempt from the payment of income tax under Section 149(1) of the Income Tax Act.

The society exists to exhibit, interpret, preserve and promote our collective artistic and cultural heritage as expressed through the visual arts. This is supported through the gallery's exhibitions, education and outreach programs to engage our community in local, regional and global issues while also being attentive to cultural and gender diversity and the work of Indigenous artists.

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The financial statements were prepared in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Not-for-profit Organizations (ASNFPPO).

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Measurement uncertainty

When preparing financial statements according to ASNPO, management makes estimates and assumptions relating to:

- reported amounts of revenues and expenses
- reported amounts of assets and liabilities

Estimates are based on a number of factors including historical experience, current events and actions that the society may undertake in the future, and other assumptions that management believes are reasonable under the circumstances. By their nature, these estimates are subject to measurement uncertainty and actual results could differ. In particular, estimates are used in accounting for certain items such as useful lives of capital assets and the year-end accounting accrual.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Revenue recognition

Penticton Art Gallery follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions.

Restricted contributions and government funding are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Investment income on unrestricted funds is recognized as revenue when earned.

Contributions in-kind of tangible capital assets and restricted funding received for the purpose of acquiring tangible capital assets are deferred and recognized as revenue on the same basis as the amortization expense related to the specific capital assets.

The society recognizes all other revenue when it is earned, specifically when all the following conditions are met:

- Services are provided or products are delivered to customers.
- There is clear evidence that an arrangement exists.
- Amounts are fixed or can be determined.
- The ability to collect is reasonably assured.
- There is no significant obligation for future performance.

Inventory

Inventory which consists of Gallery Gift Shop items is valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

Tangible capital assets

Tangible capital assets are stated at cost or deemed cost less accumulated amortization. Tangible capital assets are amortized over their estimated useful lives at the following rates and methods:

Furniture and equipment	20%	declining balance method
Computer equipment	55%	declining balance method
Leasehold improvements	10%	straight-line method

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Amortization is an accounting entry and does not represent a cash outflow to the Penticton Art Gallery. The results of operations for the year excluding amortization are as follows:

	2022	2021
Deficiency of revenue over expenditure including amortization	$ (9,584)	$ 130,527
Add: Amortization	9,314	8,773
Excess (deficiency) of revenue over expenditure excluding amortization	$ (270)	$ 139,300

Collections

The Society holds a collection of works of art and library books for the perpetual benefit of current and future generations. The Collections are shown as an asset at a nominal value of $1 due to the practical difficulties of determining a meaningful value for these assets. Works of art and books purchased for the collection of the Society are recorded as an expenditure in the year of acquisition. Works of art and books donated to the Society are not recorded in the books of account.

Items that have been estimated at a value over $1,000 are independently appraised. Items valued under $1,000 are valued at the amount as purported by the donor.

Contributed services and materials

Volunteers contribute a significant number of hours per year to assist the society in carrying out its service delivery activities. Because of the difficulty of determining their fair value, contributed services are not recognized in the financial statements. Contributed goods, including gifts in kind and donations of art, are not recognized in these financial statements, except for tangible capital assets that are used in the normal course of the society's operations.

Financial instruments policy

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value when acquired or issued. In subsequent periods, financial instruments are reported at amortized cost.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost includes cash and accounts receivable.

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost includes accounts payable, goods and services tax payable, provincial sales tax payable, wages payable and employee deductions payable.

Comparative figures

Certain comparative amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year's presentation.

Donated items

In accordance with the existing Board policy, donations of art and supplies used for the purposes of fundraising are not recorded in the financial statements.
